

ANU Humanities Research Centre

Breathing

In 2025, the Humanities Research Centre is taking time to breathe, reaching toward new opportunities and heading into new spaces. The Humanities Research Centre's mission remains to advance the production, dissemination and public translation of outstanding and innovative, interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary scholarship in the humanities across The Australian National University, nationally and globally. Join us online and in-person as we slow down and focus, together.

hrc.cass.anu.edu.au

Annual Theme

20
25

Australian National University

Humanities
Research Centre